Size Matters

Author's Notes:
Another one from the LJ drabble meme.

Markus had just managed to twist himself into a comfortable position and started to drift off to sleep when Sascha decided to speak up.

"This bed is too small."

"I know, Sascha."

"My feet are hanging over the edge."

"I know, Sascha."

"They make these rooms specifically for dwarves, I'm sure of it."

"I know, Sascha."

There was a rustling across the room, then quiet footsteps, and then Markus was being none-too-gently maneuvered out of his expert contortion.

"Er, Sascha? Not to complain, but, uh, climbing in bed with me isn't going to make the bed any bigger."
